OUTLINES OF HISTORY, FOR SCHOOLS.

The following series of Histories have been recently published in this country, and adopted into a large number of Schools in the east and in this city. The number of editions that have been published in London, is a sufficient guarantee of their merit; and we would respectfully call the attention of teachers and others interested in the cause of Education thereto.

Outlines of American History, from the first discovery to the present time, for Families and Schools, with numerous Engravings and Questions for examination of Pupils.

Outlines of History of England, for Families and Schools, with numerous engravings, published under the direction of the Committee of General Literature and Education, appointed by the Society for promoting Christian Knowledge, from the four teenth London edition, with additions and questions.

Outlines of Roman History, do do from the 9th London edition, with additions and questions.

Outlines of Grecian History, do do from the 9th London edition, with additions and questions.

ments with eastern houses are such as to enable me to sell at a very small advance upon the publisher's prices.

I publish the WESTERN LAW JOURNAL, edited by T. Walen and J. T. Morenean. The third volume is now in the course of publication. From the fact of its having sustained itself thus far, is a sufficient guarantee of its merits. I trust the name of the Hon. J. T. Morenean, as co-editor, will be an inducement to the members of the Kentucky Bar, to send in their names as subscribers to this work.

T. P. A. G. Hodges, of Frankfort, Ky., has kindly volunteered to act as my agent for the county of Franklin, and adjoining counties. Those wishing to subscribe will therefore hand in their names to him.

REMOVAL.—We have moved to the large and commodious and 6th cross streets, where we shall be happy to have a call from our old friends and customers, and buyers generally, and where we can offer them decidedly the largest and best assorted stock of Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Tobacco, Window Glass, Apothecaries, Shop Furniture, &c. &c., ever offered in the West, and at prices much below what these articles have usually been sold at in this country. The very exorbitant prices at which these articles were sold at in the large cities in the West, was a subject of complaint for many years; we were the first to reduce these prices, and the large patronage that we have received during the past seven years, is ample testimony of this fact; and to to those who are disposed to buy goods at the lowest rates, we can say, rive us your patronage and we will certainly give you full satisfaction

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Tuesday, January 27. 1846. Prayers this morning by the Rev. Mr. WELBURN. The Journal of yesterday being read and authenticated. The SPEAKER arose and said: Before proceeding to the call for petitions, it was due to one of the members of the House, that the Speaker should make a few remarks. There was nothing of higher importance in the forms of legislation than that the presiding officer should take such steps as to secure harmony and good feeling among all parties in the assembly over which he presides. He was informed, he said, that, in the appointment of the committee on the Texas resolutions, on Saturday, he had given cause of offence to the gentleman from Green, [Mr. Murray.] His intercourse with that gentleman had always been of the most friendly character; and he felt assured that his avowal would be accredited, that it was far from his intention to express any disrespect towards that gentleman. When his mind was first called to the matter, he was ready to think that he had erred. But, on reflection, he was now impressed that he had taken the only correct and parliamentary course. The order was this. The gentleman from Green offered his resolutions. The gentleman from Fayette (Mr. L. Combs) moved their commitment to a select committee-avowing, at the same time, his friendliness to the resolutions, coupled with a disposition to amend them in point of phraseology. It struck the mind of the Speaker, that that gentleman, being the

to be appointed its Chairman, and he proceeded to into the service of the State, and for other purposes: make the appointment accordingly. But it did not re-committed. follow, as a matter of necessity, that the appointment of the Chair should be respected in this case: for the committee of the Whole, and much more, a standing or select committee, might elect its own chairman. The Speaker thought it due to the genin order to allow him the best opportunity to elaborate the whole subject, and present it before the committee in such form as he might think best. He did not purpose to destroy or to neutralize the resol-Speaker was careful to retain the gentleman from Green on the committee, that he might have the opportunity, if he should desire it, to sustain the originat form of the resolutions, and defend them by instructions to correct its phraseology: and he knew rule. It was his impression that it should. Besides, the Speaker said, he had examined the 'Manual' with reference to this question, and had found the view which he had taken at the first to be confirmed by it, as well as by the experience of several gentlemen with whom he had since conversed. He had laid down for himself the principle of forbearance; and he expected the same at the hands of gentlemen. He desired, therefore, merely to re-assure be, his intention to extend to every member the utmost courtesy and respect, that might be compatible with his determination to maintain the strictest the Judiciary. impartiality in all things pertaining to his position before the House.

Petitions, &c., were now presented by Messrs. further to protect the rights of married women: FALLIS, DUDLEY, ABBETT, POPE and SEA- which was read, &c., and referred to the committee TON, which were severally received, &c., and re-

Mr. L. COMBS rose to make an explanation and correction personal to himself. He had been misconceived in his brief remarks the other day on the postponement of the Salary bill. His remark was Resolved, That this that the committee on Ways and Means had had before them a proposition, (now before the committee on the Judiciary) to do away with several sinecure merely to say now expressly, that in that remark he of imputing blame or censure to the incumbents of the offices, and establishments referred to-but he designed his remark to apply wholly to the establishments themselves. This remark, and explanation, he made in justice to himself and all concerned. REPORTS FROM THE COM'TEE ON INT. IMPROVEMENT.

The unfinished business of yesterday, being a report from the committee on Internal Improvement,

An act to amend the charter of the Glasgow and Scottsville Turnpike Company, was read, &c., and receiving some discussion by Mr. HARDY, and the Chairman of the committee reporting, (Mr. Cox.) the subject was postponed till Thursday next.

Mr. COX, from the committee on Internal Improvement, reported the following bills, which were read a second time, and the constitutional provision, rule of the House and third reading being dispensed with, they severally passed the House, to-wit:

An act for the benefit of the Covington and Lexington Turnpike Company; (it provides that dividends may become stock, &c.)

An act for the benefit of Nathaniel Wickliffe-(allowing him to erect a dam across the Beach Fork of Salt river, near where the old National Road crosses said stream.)

An act for the benefit of Turner Wilson-(allowing him to erect a Fish Dam across the said Beach Fork, adjoining his land on the same stream.)

Mr. C., from the same committee, reported adversely to the petition of John Renfro: in which the House concurred. Mr. COX, from the same committee, also reported the following bills, which were read, &c., and passed,

An act to incorporate the Barren River Navigation and Manufacturing Company -- (providing for the incorporation of a Company to improve the navigation of Barren river by means of Slack Water, and for supplying water-works to the town of Bowlinggreen,)—and, An act to provide for filling vacancies in the Directorship of Turnpike Road Companies.

COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION. Mr. ROOT, from the committee on Education. reported a bill to authorize the Trustee of the Craddock Fund to surrender his trust, and to establish a permanent Board to manage the said Fund-(authorizing Joseph R. Underwood, the Trustee, to appoint the said Board, &c .;) passed.

Mr. R., from the same committee, reported a bill to incorporate the Maysville College. The following gentlemen are named in the bill as Directors, to-wit: Richard Collins, Thomas T. Pavne, Francis T. Wood, Henry Waller, Nathaniel Pointz, Rich'd. H. Stanton, Christian Shultz, Hiram S. Pearce. Samuel K. Sharp, John Shackleford, and John M.

Mr. MAYES proposed to amend by adding a section, authorizing James Campbell, Hiram Smedley, Henry Enders, A. Slee, and Braxton Small, to act Trustees of the Female Seminary of the town of Paducah, and empowering them to carr you the business of said institution according to law: which was

Mr. ROOT proposed to amend, by adding to the third section a clause repealing the act concerning the Newport Seminary, approved February 7, 1845:

which was adopted. Mr. R., from the same committee, reported a bill for the benefit of Common Schools in Graves county. and for other purposes-without amendment: which was read, &c., and passed. Mr. R., from the same committee to whom had been referred a bill, entitled, an act for the benefit of Common Schools, reported the same; with sondry amendments: and, on his motion, the subject was referred to committee of the whole House, and made the standing order for Tuesday next.

COMMITTEE ON MILITARY AFFAIRS. Mr. ALEXANDER, from the committee on Military Affairs, to whom had been referred the leave bring in a bill for the benefit of the Fayette Rifle Company, asked to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject. Mr. L. COMBS moved that the committee be instructed to report a bill in accordance with the leave. In making the usual motion to reverse the report, &c., Mr. C. said, that the Fayette Rifle Company, in whose behalf he appeared, was one of the oldest in the State, and enjoyed the peculiar distinction of having been raised by the gallant Graves, who fell in the late war, &c.

The motion prevailed: and the committee reported accordingly, to-wit:

An act for the benefit of the Fayette Rifle Company: which extends to them the privilege of receivng and taxing honorary members: passed. Mr. ALEXANDER, from the same committee, continued to report as follows, to-wit: A bill for the benefit of the 71st Regiment of Kentucky Militia-[making it lawful for said Regiment to hold their Courts of Assessment and Appeals in the town of Paris:] passed.

mover for the committee, had the right, by courtesy | A bill providing for the payment of militia called

A bill for the benefit of Jonathan Newcum-legalizing his acts [as captain] previous to his being commissioned in 1845: passed.

A bill for the benefit of Samuel F. Taylor-Releasing him and his securities from the penalties of tleman from Fayette, having proposed to commit his bond for the safe keeping of certain public and amend, that he should have the chairmanship, arms: passed over.

A bill for the benefit of George W. Fox and others: rejected.

A bill entitled, An act to amend an act entitled, an act to amend the Militia Laws, approved Februautions, but to improve them by a substitute: and the ry 9, 1837: postponed, and made the special order for Saturday.

On motion of Mr. BARLOW, the Committee on the Penitentiary was discharged from the further consideration of the resolution referred to them, submitting his views against the modifications of and directing an inquiry into the discipline of the the gentleman from Fayette. Such a course was prison-the number of hours which the convicts are strictly parliamentary, where a member rises and employed; and also from the resolution directing moves to commit a bill to a select committee, with inquiry into the expediency of prohibiting slaves from being lodged in the Penitentiary for safe keepnot why a resolution should not come under the same ing; and also from the resolution directing inquiry into the condition of the convicts, &c., and the expediency of employing them on the public works. Mr. WALLER, from the committee on the Sinking Fund, reported a bill for the benefit of Henry Blanton, Robert Snell, and their securities-releasing them from the payment of a judgment in favor of the Commonwealth, of $977 34, and interest thereon from the 27th May, 1841; provided that they be not released from costs and commission, nor the House, that it had been, and would continue to from the payment of $40 a piece to the Attorney General: which received some discussion, and was committed, with instructions, to the committee on

ORDERS OF THE DAY.
The CLERK reported the order, to-wit: A bill on the Judiciary, with instructions to report on

The CLERK then reported the Senate joint resolution, fixing a day for the adjournment of the Gen-

Resolved, That this General Assembly will adurn sine die on the 10th day of February, 1846. Mr. COX proposed to amend by a preamble, setting forth the desire of the House to concur, togethestablishments here about Frankfort. He desired er with the present impossibility to do so, and have respect at the same time to any proper disposition of had no invidious reference to individuals-no idea the public business before them, and so qualifying the question as to reserve the right to rescind and extend the time if necessary. The question being on the adoption of the pream-

Mr. J. S. SMITH proceeded to give his views on the whole subject, and his experience in the case: and moved the postponement of further consideration till the 6th day of February.

The subject then received full discussion at the hands of Messrs. POPE, HARLAN and COX, in opposition to the resolution, and Mr. WORTHAM in its favor; when, under the operation of the previous questiou, the motion carried: so the subject was postponed.

SPECIAL ORDER-THE EXEMPTION LAW. Mr. BROWN, from a select committee, to whom the same had been referred, reported a special order for this day, to-wit:

A bill to amend an act, entitle, an act to reduce into one the several acts exempting property from execution, approved February 7, 1845.

[This bill was reported by the committee as a ubstitute for that which had been referred to them. It provides for specific exemptions, in addition to the existing list, to wit. one work beast, one woman's saddle; and it also provides, in the second section, that where the execution debtor has no additional work beast, or having one, is willing to give it up, that, in lieu thereof, he may exempt property of his own selection, to the amount of $50, &c.] Mr. DALLAM proposed to amend by striking out the second section. Mr. ROOT took the floor in opposition to the amendment. He regarded the second section as the best feature of the bill, and spoke with much earnestness of the thousand articles of comfort and necessity which the good house-wife might select, under the fifty dollar exemption, and so minister to the numerous and nameless wants of her household. It was, therefore, in the name of mercy and charity that he plead for this exemption in behalf of the down-trodden poor, the oppressed laborer, and the suffering and perishing widow and orphan. It was in behalf of these that he asked for this further exemption, to enable them to rescue from the grasp of the unfeeling creditor those little things, so essential to life and comfort, which could not be pointed out by any general act of legislation. Mr. R. instanced several cases which in his judgment, required the interposition of this second section, &c., and concluded by demanding its passage as a shield of defence to the masses who were as the strength and bulwark of the State in war. Wealth might take care of itself he said, but whenever the poor were left wholly to the cold charity and forbearance of creditors, they were commonly devoted hopelessly to suffering and ruin: and hence it was requisite and reasonable and just that there should be thrown around them some shield of the laws like that which the bill proposes. &c.

Mr. L. COMBS seconded the conclusions of the gentleman from Campbell: and added that this bill was one among the several measures of paramount interest to his mind, which he desired to see passed at the present session.

Mr. DALLAM withdrew his motion to strike out. Mr. MAYHALL proposed to amend by striking ut "school books" in the 3d section, and inserting books not more than $25 in value." This amendment was supported in a most elaboate view of the whole question by Mr. J. SPEED SMITH.

Mr. G. BOWLING proposed "$15 worth of ooks.

Mr. MAYS was then heard at length against the substitute, as amendatory of the original bill-coninuing till the moment of adjournment; when Mr. PETERS had leave to introduce a bill to change the name of Mary M. Graham to Mary M. McIntyre: and Mr. KELLY, in behalf of the gentleman from Grant, obtained his leave of absence till Monday. And then the House adjourned.

MAN'S TWO ANGELS.

Two angels wait on man,—the high
And glorious angels, garmented in light.
We reck not of their presence, though they keep
Continual watch, as stars do—when we sleep.
Our heavenly guardians they from birth to death;
From our first murmur to our latest breath:
Silent and calm they stand on either side—
The one—with tender aspect, like a bride
Whose heart responsive beats to joy or woe;
The other stern, but more a judge than foe.
When man does well—one angel writes it down,
And seals the record; for the bright renown
Of goodness lasts beyond the proudest name
That power, or wit, or genius wins from fame.
When man does ill—the other angel writes,
But does not seal the record he indites;
He waits till midnight—if before that time
Repentance follows on the wrong or crime,
And the man humbly bows his head and prays
For pardon, and with contrite spirit says:—
"Oh, I have sinned, forgive me, mighty Lord;"
Then doth the sterner angel grace accord,
And on the record drops a pitying tear,
And makes once more his tablet pure and clear:
But if the heart no softening impulse feel
When midnight comes, he seals it with his seal,
And the mild angel weeps—for there will stay
The blot eraseless till the final day. MAN'S TWO ANGELS.

I do not fear to assert the belief that there would not be one abolitionist in the Convention, if it should be ordered by the people. Such politicians, if there were any such, would be left at home, if they dared propose themselves as candidates for any office. The people know that the present Constitution authorizes the Legislature to emancipate every slave in the Commonwealth by paying the owner his value. There is no necessity amendment on that subject. It is competent for the legislature to impose a tax on the lands and other property of the people, large enough to make a fund sufficient to purchase, emancipate and transport every slave in the State to Liberia. Why was there no attempt to exercise this power by the Legislature? Because it is the deliberate opinion of the people that it would be highly inexpedient to tax their property to rid them of the institution of slave-Suppose a large majority of the freemen of Kentucky should come to the conclusion that slavery is a political, moral and christian evil, and determine to remove it from their institutions, would not their Representatives carry out that determination, and, under the present Constitution, entirely extirpate the evil from the land? The non user of this power by the Legislature, and the absence of any effort to exercise it, show, beyond a doubt, that there are few, if any, who wish to have it exercised (To be concluded in to-morrow's paper.)

Washington, January 20, 1846.

DEAR SIR: The Government received the new brought by the last sail packet from England, on yesterday evening by express. Before this reach es you, the resignation of the Peel ministry, the news of which it brought, will have been seen by lowed for office rent. you. This unexpected event was brought about solely by a difference between Peel and his colleagues upon the Corn Laws. The chief object was the inflexible spirit of Wellington. What influence this change will have upon the relations with this country is as yet a subject of unsatisfactory conjecture here. The temper of Palmerston, the proposed Secretary of Foreign affairs in the new ministry, was probably more hostile to our policy. views and interests, when he filled that office under the Melbourn administration, than that of any other living Statesman. Unless a modification of his course should be required to enable him to continue in place, I think we will find him more intractable and haughty than Aberdeen. But politicians are politicians, whether in England or America, and it is impossible to say what changes altered circumstances will not bring over their counsels. I would rather risk the late than the present Ministry for an honorable and peaceful adjustment of the controversy with us. It is understood that the President at the same time received despatches from Mr. McLane. Their purport has not yet transpired, but they were of such a nature as to cause a Cab- I inet council to be convened last night. It is said s they have thrown the administration into trouble. and one result is, that they are trying to reign in E the more violent of the Western Locofoco Oregon men. I do not know whether the folly or sinister purposes preponderate in the management of this Oregon question as yet. One thing, however, is certain; and that is, before it is creditably settled, it will give a great deal of trouble. Every thing here yet pauses upon it.

You express a great solicitude to have the Tariff saved. Yours is not greater than mine. But nothing short of troubles with England can save it. even if that can; excepting always, as you have seen it intimated in the Union, this administration would at any time sell out the protective policy, principle and all, for all Oregon, yea, even for the 49th parallel, and the arrangement would be ratified by every one of its friends. It is even talked of, to make a commercial treaty between the two countries, to fix the rates of duties upon British goods. Now this is the tax question and that of protection combined; and before I would consent that they have addressed the Chair, all asserting that their should be disposed of by the two governments, in constituents have demanded this measure at their the form of a commercial treaty, sacrificing the con stitutional independence of Congress, its powers to lay taxes at pleasure, and the paramount prosperity of the country, I would make war both upon Queen

THE BEST, AND CHEAPEST, AND MOST UNIFORM SERIES OF STANDARD SCHOOL BOOKS

TO those engaged in the important, but arduous task of instructing youth, McGUFFEY'S ECLECTIC READERS, Nos. One, Two, Three and Four, are now presented, thoroughly revised, and greatly enlarged, with many important improvements. They are now in a permanent stereotype form, NO FURTHER ALTERATIONS being intended.

THER ALTERATIONS being intended.

Prof. McGuifey's enthusiastic devotion to the cause of Education, his fine taste and discriminating mind, and his practical experience as an instructer, render him peculiarly fitted for the department of authorship, to which he has given his attention. The suggestions of intelligent teachers who had used the former editions of the series, and the valuable aid afforded him in the revision by an experienced educator, have also furnished him with unusual facilities for advantageously revising and enlarging these works. In this series, comprising as it does, a careful selection of in-

In this series, Comprising as it does, a careful selection of instructive, entertaining and moral matter, progressively arranged, and graduated with reference to the capacity of the pupil, Prof. McGuffey has afforded to parents and teachers, a most thorough, cemplete, and efficient auxiliary in the education of youth. Its extensive use has been sufficient for the development and just appreciation of its many excellencies. The result is, that intelligent teachers pronounce it the most complete series now before the public.

gent teachers pronounce it the most complete series now before the public.

The intrinsic merit of Prof. McGuffey's Eclectic Readers, having gained for them an unparalleled and rapidly increasing circulation, the publisher is enabled, notwithstanding the heavy expenditure in their revision and enlargement, to manufacture them in the neatest and most durable manner, while they are now furnished at such low prices, that they are the CHEAPEST, as well as the best school reading books extant.

JUST PUBLISHED,

McGUFFEY'S RHETORICAL GUIDE; or Fifth Reader, of the Eclectic Series—480 pages, 12mo; containing copious and minute rules, examples and exercises in articulation, inflection, emphasis; accent, quantity, rhetorical pause, modulation, expression, reading of poetry, rhetorical dialogue, gesture, and their collateral subjects, to which are added a great variety of elegant reading lessons, (about one half prose and half poetry.) selected from the most classic writers; furnishing entertaining and instructive specimens of various styles of composition. This work has been prepared with very great care, and with reference to making it a useful, practical, and standard book; and the publisher confidently hopes, that the Rhetorical Guide of Mr. McGuffey is well adapted to supply the wants of classes in rhetorical reading in our Academies, High Schools and Colleges.

Of art and taste combined;
Each gorgeous dress is here displayed,
To suit the varied mind.
Here Coats, and Vests, and Pants you view,
Of texture smooth and fine;
All colored with each rainbow hue,
To deck the form divine:
And Scarfs of every beauteous dye
Artistic skill could trace,
To please the taste, delight the eye,
And twine the neck with grace:
And sylendid Cloaks made a la mode,
To keep the body warm;
The Tichest dress which Fashion's code
Has given the manly form.

Has given the manly form.
Our ample stock we purchased low,
And paid the rino down;
And thus can sell for less, we know,

Than any one in town.

Our matchless Goods then call and see,
And buy a splendid suit,

or they shall fit you to a T, For they shall he cheap to book.

Just try the new GKEAT WESTERN stand;
To please shall be our task,
And when we've served with ready hand,
The dimes—that's all we ask.
